PERISCOPE HOW-TO

What you'll need

2 single-sleeve
cracker boxes

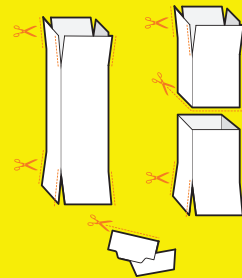

Duct tape

Two 2-inch-square mirrors,
edges covered with tape

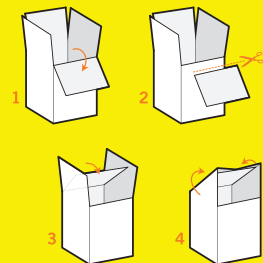

Glue

Balsa wood (in the model aisle of the art supply store)

Construction paper

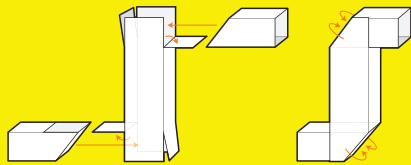

1. Cut the flaps off both boxes. Make 2-inch slices into each of the corners along the seams, then cut one of the boxes in half width-wise to get two small boxes.

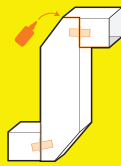

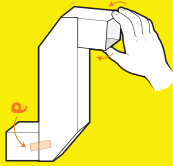

2. Working with one small box, fold out one flap and cut off. Fold the opposite flap down at a 45-degree angle; fold side flaps over it and tape down. Repeat with other small box.

3. Glue mirrors inside the angled sections; let dry.

4. To assemble: Take the long box, fold out one flap and insert a small box as shown. Lightly tape down the flaps around it. Repeat on opposite side. The mirrors should face each other inside the box.

5. Look through the periscope and adjust the boxes until you get a good reflection; add more tape to secure, then glue all the pieces in place. Let dry. Decorate as described on page 22.
